Omega Biblical Reading

Greetings Brothers,

Consider the following:

1 Samuel 17: 45 Then said David to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a shield: but I come to thee in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied.

46 This day will the LORD deliver thee into mine hand; and I will smite thee, and take thine head from thee; and I will give the carcasses of the host of the Philistines this day unto the fowls of the air, and to the wild beasts of the earth; that all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel.

Often times we struggle with the Goliaths in our lives. Whether it be satan, debt, or any other adversaries to our success, we must always remember the same God that blessed us in the past will bless in the present and future. Know who has the power in every battle, and keep your faith in HIM. David knew God had the power in the battle before it was even fought. Today brothers know who has the power in your bat-

DOLLARS AND SENSE

A few years ago economists and investors attempted to figure out all the implications of prolonged stagnation of our economy. Today the economy appears to be on an upswing and the job markets are opening back up.

Now is the time to take full advantage of the momentum and stabilize your financial future.

Pay down debt. Even if your finances are in good shape, it can be a shrewd money move to accelerate payments on your mortgage, car loan or any other type of balance. With savings rates slowly rising, the stock market gaining and even commodities like gold still increasing in value, many investors are still playing it safe and keeping their money in high-grade bonds or cash.

Lower your breakeven point. Many companies have been slashing costs so they're able to compete in a more austere environment. Individuals and families can do the same thing. Cutting expenses, limiting impulse buys, stretching out the life of your car and refinancing your mortgage are all ways to lower your personal "operating costs," which will pay off if you suddenly need to get by on less.

Cross-train. In a recent issue of the Harvard Business Review, three executives from leadership development consultancy Zenger Folkman argue that it's better to spend scarce time learning a new skill than building on a skill you already have. "If you're technically adept," they write, "delving even more deeply into technical manuals won't get you nearly as far as honing a complementary skill such as communication, which will make your expertise more apparent and accessible to your co-workers." This kind of professional "cross-training," they say, helps build new strengths instead of merely improving on known weaknesses. Other research has shown that people with two or three skill sets, not surprisingly, tend to be more successful than those with just one.
