Venning named Old Point Outstanding Volunteer

Brother Isaiah Venning receives his award from Dr. Luanne Kokolis, Associate Superintendent for Student Services, Dr. Tanya Campbell, Principal; Venning; Dr. Kelly Pew, Superintendent of Schools; Dr. Harriet Jaworowski, Associate Superintendent for Instruction; Anthony Cox—Associate Superintendent for Administrative Services

ROCK HILL, SC - Brother Isaiah Venning was honored on Wednesday July 30, 2014 during the Rock Hill School District's Annual Community Awards Luncheon held at the Events at Manchester.

Isaiah was named Old Pointe Elementary School's Outstanding Volunteer for the 2013 - 2014 School Year.

His letter of recommendation read as follows:

"The Old Pointe school family would like to recognize Mr. Isaiah Venning as an outstanding volunteer. Mr. Isaiah began working with the students at Old Pointe over four years ago as a community volunteer. He came in immediately formed a bond with a group of third grade boys. He would work with them in the classroom, sit and talk during lunch or handout at recess. When Old Pointe opened its tuition based 4k program, Mr. Isaiah became one of our best supporters and advertisers. That was even before he was an Old Pointe parent! Both of his sons have since gone through the program. Mr. Isaiah has served as PASS monitor, field trip chaperone, SIC member, duty free lunch monitor, field day volunteer, guest reader, career day speaker and anything else our teachers ask for his assistance with. It's because of supportive parents like Mr. Venning that Old Pointe is and continues to be an Amazing school. We thank you and honor you with the Outstanding Volunteer award." Serena H. Williams, Coordinator of Community Services.

Brother Venning and his wife Krystal, have sons who attend Old Pointe Elementary. Isaiah, Jr. who will be a rising 1st grader and Langston who will be entering Kindergarten.

Reggie said, "I was very honored to be recognized as Old Pointe's Outstanding Volunteer. The event was really nice and I'm sure all of the volunteers appreciated being honored."
